HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,

MONDAY, March 5.

A written message was received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Lear, as follows:

Gentlemen of the Senate, and of the House of Representatives,

Knowing the friendly interest you take in whatever may promote the happiness and prosperity of the French nation, it is with pleasure that I lay before you the translation of a letter which I have received from his most Christian Majesty, announcing to the United States of America, his acceptance of the constitution presented to him by his nation.

G. WASHINGTON.

Translation of a letter from the King of France, of Sept. 19, 1791.

Very dear, great friends and allies,

We make it our duty to inform you, that we have accepted the constitution which has been presented to us in the name of the nation, and according to which France will be henceforth governed.

We do not doubt that you take an interest in an event so important to our kingdom and to us; and it is with real pleasure we take this occasion to renew to you assurances of the sincere friendship we bear to you.—Whereupon we pray God to have you, very dear, great friends and allies, in his just and holy keeping. Written at Paris the 19th of September, 1791.

Your good friend and ally,

(Signed) LOUIS.

(Signed) MONTMORIN.

The United States of North America.

LONDON, December 12.

The late inhuman, treacherous conduct of the emperor of Morocco, in putting to death the Spanish prisoners, will it is hoped, not long go unrevenged. The court of Madrid have ordered several Ships of war to be equipped, and to rendezvous at Algeziras, with the avowed intention of destroying Sales, and other Maritime towns on the Barbary coast.

Rome, Nov. 5. We have accounts from Naples which confirm the sad tidings from Calabria, of further damage having been done by earthquakes in that unfortunate province; the towns of Milero and Monte Leone in particular have suffered very much, and the shocks have been felt at Messina.

Lisbon, Oct. 28. Orders have been sent to prepare a ship of the line and three frigates to sail on the first notice, some fermentations in the Brazils having made such a disposition necessary.

ALBANY, January 30.

By a gentleman of information and respectability from the northward, we are informed, that he fell in company with a person near lake Champlain, who had made his escape from Canada, on his way to the Jerseys, the place of his nativity; that he was one of the three persons taken last summer by the Indians from their families; that he was carried to Detroit, where he was sold to a British officer; that during his continuance there, both prior & subsequent to the unfortunate battle, he saw continually supplies of provisions and ammunition of all kinds, going to the Indians; and that the Canadians have a chain of deposits from Detroit to the Indian camp, through which these savages are supplied in the most ample manner; And that on the return of the Indians from their successful expedition, he saw a great many Tories, and other white animals, completely disguised as Indians.

PHILADELPHIA, February 9.

A vessel arrived at New-York from Cape-Francois last Thursday, which place she left the second of January. The negroes were still pursuing their wonted ravages, in burning and destroying the the country. Four hundred troops had arrived from France, and three hundred more were hourly expected, besides four thousand to be looked for the beginning of February. Accounts had been received at the Cape that the remains of Port-au-Prince had been totally destroyed, and the white people and mulattoes as much at variance as ever, the latter having taken possession of St. Marks, and armed several small vessels to intercept shipping bound to Port-au-Prince, in which they had been in some measure successful. Other accounts say, that twenty thousand troops were daily expected from France to crush the rebellion, and if possible save the colony from total devastation.

PITTSBURGH, March 24.

[From a late London paper.]

The prophecies of Christopher Love which are shortly to be public are of a very extraordinary kind. He is said to have foretold the American Independency, the French Revolution, and other events which have been confirmed. Of those yet to come he speaks in the following words: "God will be known to many in the year 1795.—This will produce a great man; the stars will wander, and the moon turn as in blood in 1800. Asia, Africa and America will tremble in 1803. A great earthquake all over the world in 1805. God will be universally known by all—then a general reformation and peace for ever, when the people shall learn war no more. Happy is the man that liveth to see this day."

KNOXVILLE, March 24.

We are sorry to inform our readers, there is too much reason to apprehend, that the towns of Runing Water, Nickajack, Long-Island villages, Crow Town, and Lookout Mountain of the Cherokees, will join the Shawanese and Creeks in hostilities against the United States.

The four first of these towns lay on the south bank of the Tennessee and are the common crossing places of the Creeks and northern tribes as they pass from one nation to the other, which is very frequent; and the fifth is situate on a creek of the same name, about twelve miles south of the other, all quite detached from the other towns of the Cherokees, being divided therefrom by the Chatuga mountain.

The Little Turkey, the principal chief of the Cherokees, is so incensed at the conduct of these five towns that he has forbid in positive terms, in a general talk, addressed to his nation, all intercourse and society with them.

Mr. Hammond, the new British Consul General to the United States arrived at New-York in the last packet. His appointment is of the highest importance to this country, as he has it in commission to conclude a treaty of offensive and defensive alliance between England and the United States. The outlines of this treaty have been already discussed and we learn that some very considerable commercial advantages are held out to America as the basis of it, which will in time supplant the greater part of the trade of Russia with this country.

REVOLUTION IN SWITZERLAND.

By advices last night from Yverdon, Pays du Vaud, in the Canton of Berne, intelligence reached this country of the spirit of revolution having reached that formerly peaceful spot—Members from the Jacobin Club at Paris first disseminated this desire of change. Those who have taken a part in this are not distinguished by a cockade, but have a particular button with this inscription on it—"Live free, or die!"

The 14th of July last was the day fixed on for the commencement of revolt. The town of Rolle particularly distinguished itself in resisting authority that was employed against it: and so general has the disorder grown, and so wide has it spread, that it is supposed 10,000 men would now be necessary to quell the tumult.

The democrats of France have been moving Heaven and Earth to effect this design.

LEXINGTON, April 27.

The party of men from near Limestone under Capt. Kenton & McIntire who went in pursuit of the Indians, (as mentioned in our last,) we are informed have all returned except two; one of which is said to be killed, the other missing, said to be wounded.

They came on the Indian camp undiscovered, in the night, and poured on them a well directed fire by which it is thought not less than 15 or 20 fell; they were encamped on the bank of the little Miami, on the E. side; another party encamped on the West side (which our men knew nothing of,) crossed and began to reinforce the camp, upon the discovery of which, our men thought prudent to retreat. The Indians had a Markee and Tent pitched—Trophies of their late success.

We learn farther, that Capt. Kenton has raised another party and is again gone in pursuit of them.

We are happy to have it in our power to contradict the account in our last, of thirteen men having been killed at Fort Jefferson.

WESTERN DISCOVERIES.

It is incredible what pains are taken at this day by more European nations than one to send enterprising travellers to explore the interior regions of America. Among which the British take the lead; and, forgetting the narrow insular limits that nature has assigned them, and the various checks they have experienced in the road to universal empire, on this continent, they are still projecting a tributary government in the pathless forests of interior America. A Mr. Stuart, said to be in the employ of the British court, has not long since returned from a four years travels through the hitherto unexplored regions to the westward. Taking his course west south-westerly from the posts on the lakes, he penetrated to the head of the Missouri and from thence due west to within about 500 miles of the shores of the Pacific ocean. Nothing prevented his reaching the coast but inveterate war which had been for some years carried on with all the implacability of savage revenge, between the interior Indians and those towards the sea-coast parts. So great however, was the ardour of the enterprising Mr. Stuart to obtain his object (the exploring the continent from sea to sea) that he joined the interior Indians in several battles against the shore Indians, all which coming short of his object, the procuring a peace, after some stay, he returned nearly by the route he pursued in going out—Our information adds, that beyond the Missouri. Mr. Stuart met with many powerful nations of savages, in general, hospitable and courteous. The Indian nations he visited westward appeared to be a polished, civilized people, having regular built towns, and being in a state of society not far removed from the European, and only wanting the use of iron and steel to be perfectly so. They are always clad in skins, cut in an elegant manner, and in many respects preferable to the garments in use among the whites. Adjacent to these nations is a vast range of mountains, which may be called the Alleghany of the western parts of America and serves as a barrier against the too frequent incursions of the coast Indians, who entertain a mortal antipathy to the nations and tribes inhabiting the country eastward, beyond the mountains. [Nat. Gaz.]

DESERTED.

ON the evening of the 7th inst. from Fort Jefferson, two soldiers of the first U. S. Regt. one by the name of William Hill, native of Pennsylvania, late resided in the district of Kentucky, near Craigs mill, had on his uniform when he left—23 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches high, dark hair, fair complexion. — The other by the name of Edward Turner, well made, about 5 feet 6 inches high, 25 years of age, dark complexion, black hair and eyes, his fore teeth a little decayed, born in New-Jersey—any person whomsoever shall apprehend the said deserters and deliver them up to the commanding officer at Fort Washington, or to the subscriber at this post, shall receive a reward of Ten Dollars each and all necessary charges paid by

PAPER MILL

CRAIG, PARKERS and COMPANY

ARE now erecting a PAPER MILL at George Town, Woodford county; and as the public are deeply interested in the establishing so useful a branch of business, we flatter ourselves they will save all their Rags, for which we will give three pence per pound for those of a fineness above 700, two pence for all between 500 and 700, and for all under 500 a penny half penny. The above prices will be given in Lexington, by Messrs. Alexander and James Parker and a plan adopted to procure them in the different parts of the district shortly. If we are not disappointed in getting Rags, we expect to be able to furnish the district with paper the ensuing winter.

CRAIG PARKERS & Co.

N. B. The Rags must be clean.

 SACRED TO THE MUSES.

[The following lines were lately addressed to the Editor of a Newspaper, from a good Customer, inclosing half a guinea; They were not intended for the Press, but thinking they might serve as a hint to his other friends, he has been induced to give them a place]

I GET my papers nearly all,
 No fault I can discover,
 Save now and then some papers small,
 But this I can look over.
 Your advertisements I attend,
 Where want of cash you're shewing,

In this my aid I'll freely lend,
 To keep the Press a going.
 Inclos'd a half a guinea's here,
 Which has been some time due,
 This pays for services last year,
 Likewise some interest too.

Notice to the distillers of spirits in the district of Kentucky.

Col. John Finnie's collector of revenue for the county of Woodford and the Towns and Villages within the same. Mr. Thomas Carneal for the counties of Fayette Bourbon and Maton, and the towns and villages in the same. Capt. Rhodes Thompson and Mr. William Vawter for the counties of Mercer, Lincoln and Madison and the towns and villages within the same. Mr. William Sullivan for the counties of Jefferson and Nelson, and the towns and villages in the same. The above Gentlemen are possessed of the act of Congress for laying the excise on Stills and distilled spirits, and if applied to, will give the distillers any information relative thereto which they may wish to receive. Some of the distillers I am informed, pretend to say they are taught to believe that the excise is not to be collected in this district. From whence they derive their information I cannot conceive; but do here by inform them that the collectors will shortly be with them in order to collect it, and that those who are not provided with money, or shew a disposition to oppose the execution of the law will be proceeded against as that law directs.

TO those whom it may concern,

WHEREAS, from recent experience, it is apprehended by me: that very clandestine designs are actually on foot, among persons collusively combined, and plotting together to scramble for and possess (no matter how) such parts of the South Carolina Yazou Company's property as, for the purposes of security and safety, and subject to my order alone, have been deposited by me in the hands of several persons in this district—and as artful pretexts may be used, to colour the illegal right of claiming them, in the sole view of deceiving the simple or unwary: this therefore is to warn all persons possessed, under me, of such, or any other property, to pay no regard to the pretensions of those people, if any there be, nor to part with the possession of any property so committed to their fidelity and care; but to the under-written himself, or in virtue of an order from him, as they shall answer to the contrary.
